

Art is the most powerful form of expression in any society. The arts are a powerful vehicle for communication, a way to express ideas that are beyond the capacity of words and a medium for cultural enlightenment. Knowledge of the arts is an indispensable foundation for enlightened citizenship in our increasingly complicated society.

It is a widely acknowledged fact that good architecture has its roots in art. It follows that nations and cultures which have embraced art to a higher level have developed architecture that is relevant to the people and easy for them to identify with.

A number of renowned architects use(d) art to inform and contribute to their professional work, for example Le Corbusier, Stephen Holl and Zaha Hadid. Art informed their personal styles of architecture at different points of design. For the
